WILCOX CHAIRMAN OF NATIONAL COMMITTEE

Steering Committee Led By Crane, with Hughes, Select Him

New York, June 27.—William R. Wilcox of New York was this afternoon named chairman of the republican national committee.

The selection of Wilcox was announced following a 45 minute conference between candidate Charles Evans Hughes and the steering committee of the national committee headed by W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts.

Wilcox first came into prominence as the most likely candidate for Hughes campaign director two weeks ago.

Others have been mentioned as possibilities and various state leaders have urged "favorite sons" but Wilcox has generally been considered most likely to be the final selection since his name first appeared. Wilcox was formerly chairman of the New York public service commission.

He was the first man to call on Hughes at his hotel here when the candidate came to New York following his nomination and resignation from the supreme bench.

The new chairman is a close personal friend of Hughes. He formerly was postmaster of New York and later was appointed by Hughes, when the latter was governor of New York, to become chairman of the state public utilities commission.

While Wilcox has been comparatively active in republican politics, he has never figured prominently as a member of the so-called organization crowd. He has belonged to the Hughes group of republicans in New York. He is an attorney with offices in New York and is a member of the Union League and New York Yacht club. He was born at Smyrna, N. Y., and is 53 years old.

ROBERT PARKER MILES HAS TRAVELED ALL OVER GLOBE

Served on Hearst Newspapers as Religious Editor and Travels Over World In Search of News

ROBERT PARKER MILES, who is brought to the Chautauquas this year, was the confessor of Gladstone, Pope Leo XIII, and many other of the great characters of modern times, both in this country and Europe. As reformer, traveler and "uplift" editor of the greatest chain of newspapers in the world, Dr. Miles is equipped with a fund of first hand information seldom experienced in one man's career. As an orator Dr. Miles is distinguished for his dramatic power to visualize the famous characters and events of the past generation, with which he is so thoroughly familiar.

At Salem Chautauquas, which opens, Wednesday, July 12.

The attorney general has furnished information concerning the "rail crew" legislation relating to railroads in Oregon. A county-wide inquiry into the subject is being instituted by the New Jersey state chamber of commerce.

Miss Vera Ritchner, the new organist at the Oregon theatre, was formerly a Salem girl. She left here several years ago taking up the study of music in the east and in Europe. Before coming to Salem she was with one of the Portland moving picture houses.

The Rev. Harry E. Marshall is in the city, leaving this evening for a week's evangelistic work at Junction City. After the close of the Junction City work, Mr. Marshall will spend about a month resting in Salem. Mrs. Marshall and son are visiting relatives at Long Beach.

Word was received this morning that the three wandering Salem Elks, A. L. Wallace, Milo Rasmussen and W. E. Slater had arrived in Los Angeles. Mr. Wallace will stay in Los Angeles. The other young men are now on their way to Detroit where they expect to locate.

Mayor White had some doubts at last night's council meeting. Application had been made to erect a tent on the lot next to Ye Liberty theatre to be used as a shooting gallery. On past occasions permits have been issued and the council later found that pretty substantial buildings had been put up. This time the council will take no chances but will investigate first.

GANG THROWS STONES AT STEAMER POMONA

Crew of Boat Fires Shots In Return and Police Are Called to Docks

Several shots were fired by the crew of the steamer Pomona last night in beating off an attack by a band of thugs who greeted the arrival of the river boat at the Trade street dock with a volley of stones.

As near as can be ascertained by the police, six or more men hid around the lumber piles and buildings on the docks awaiting the arrival of the boat. The opinion has been expressed that the men came up from Portland with the express purpose of attacking the crew.

Patrolmen Victor and Kave responded to a call for help sent in to the station but the attacking party had disappeared when they arrived on the scene. The attack, which is an echo of the longshoremen's strike now in effect at all coast ports, is the second occurring within the past few weeks.

A committee from the city will meet with the county court to make arrangements for taking care of dependents of those leaving with the Taird regiment for San Diego today. With the head of the family gone to war some households will have a hard time of it unless the authorities provide relief.

Cherry growers are considerably alarmed over the continued showers as the Royal Anna are beginning to crack badly. There is a splendid crop this year and picking has just begun. Only good weather during picking is needed to insure profitable returns to the growers who are getting five cents a pound at the Salem canneries for Royal Anna.

Fire patrol assessments are legally levied even though the county court neglects to put them on the tax roll if the list is turned over to the assessor and he puts them on the roll. Attorney General Brown held, in a reply to a query from State Forester Elliott. Also, says Brown, tax collectors can accept payments as a charge on their books.

The Moose hall will be the scene of a reception tonight at the general reception to be given Miss Estelle Wilson, queen of the Cherry fair. The Moose, assisted by the United Artisans' Woodmen of the World and Modern Woodmen endorsed Miss Wilson and were active in raising funds necessary to elect. At the meeting tonight the maids of the queen will be selected.

The question of whether or not Marion county will make payments under the widows' pension law will be decided in the near future in the supreme court. Two cases now before the court, Eva M. Wolfe and Mary L. Finley against Marion county, have been advanced on the calendar. Both involve the same principles and an interesting argument is expected concerning the payment of back pensions.

A request has been made by Mrs. Fred S. Ryan and Mrs. S. C. Dyer that all the ladies who have been preparing lunches for the soldier boys and also the comfort kits, bring them to the Southern Pacific passenger depot by 5 o'clock. This will give them ample time to prepare all packages and arrange for the quick distribution. The company is ordered to leave track at 4 o'clock. The train will stop here about ten minutes.

The funeral of A. G. Newsom who died yesterday morning in the St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the chapel of Rigdon and Richardson. The services and burial will be under the auspices of the Salem lodge No. 336, R. I. O. F. Elks, assisted by the Rev. R. P. Fisher of the Lutheran church. Burial will be in the Mausoleum at the City View cemetery. All Elks are requested to attend the services, meeting first at the lodge rooms at 1:30 o'clock. Elks are requested to bring their automobiles.

Governor Withycombe has accepted the invitation of Benjamin Brick, director of the public and convention department of the Commercial club, to be his guest at the Cherry fair, July 3. The governor will crown the Cherry fair queen, Miss Estelle Wilson, and take part in the day's festivities. All committees are requested by Mr. Brick to not to fail to attend the meeting tomorrow evening at the Commercial club, for a last report. This meeting is the final one, and Mr. Brick urges a full attendance in order that a list of prizes may be properly prepared and the finishing touches put on for the grand celebration.

Formerly an official postal guide was a seltie looking volume costing so much that only corporations and mail order houses could afford to own one. Now the postal authorities in Washington believe that the guide should be in the hands of just ordinary business like to know something about postoffice. Hence, it may now be obtained for 75 cents, bound in black cloth, with monthly supplements to follow. For the small sum of 10 cents a copy in paper back may be obtained by leaving this amount with the postmaster and waiting until a club of 10 can be formed. Every postoffice address in the country is given in the official guide.

ATTORNEYS WORDS LEAD TO SCRIMMAGE

Salem and Portland Lawyers Break Law by Scrapping In Court

Attorney Grant Corby and Attorney N. S. Richards are nursing no ill feeling today as a result of a mixup in Judge Galloway's court last evening during the hearing of habeas corpus proceedings instituted by Mrs. Agnes Pardin to secure possession of an eight year old child now making its home with Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Flake of this city.

Richards interrupted Corby while the latter was addressing the court and the Salem attorney became somewhat ruffled. So much so, in fact, spectators aver, that Corby offered to whip the Portlander if the latter would observe the amenities by coming out side.

Evidently a believer in a strong offensive as the best means of defense, Richards, report has it, jumped up and waded in, hitting Corby a number of times.

Court Reporter Rauch, Deputy Boyer and the court itself took a hand in trying to restore order. To Flake, Corby's client, goes the honor of breaking the fight, for he caught Richards and forced him back over a seat.

The court imposed a $25 fine on the Portland man which was remitted when the latter apologized to the judge and to Corby for his seeming haste. The attorneys parted friends.

The suit was almost lost sight of in the rumput and Judge Galloway advised that it be taken into the Washington county courts which issued the order giving the child to Mrs. Pardin.

Buenos Ayres, June 27.—A lengthy telegram expressing sympathy of the Latin American league was forwarded to General Carranza today, following a meeting held here last night. Several pro-Mexican speeches were made, the orators charging the existence of an expansionist party in the United States with designs on all South America.

Foreign Minister Maratue has received a communication from Foreign Secretary Aguilar of Mexico, intimating that President Wilson's decision to pursue a strong policy toward Mexico is only for political purposes.

South American governments continue to exchange messages with reference to mediation proposals. It was semi-officially hinted today that some diplomats are verging on the over-zealous. Certain smaller governments are also accused of indiscreet interference.

South Americans Active.
Washington, June 27.—Several Latin American diplomats in Washington have telegraphed General Carranza urging release of 17 American troops held prisoners at Chihuahua City. It was learned today.

These diplomats pointed out to Carranza the diplomatic expediency of doing this if he is sincere in his expressed desire to prevent war. Since there is no war yet, the captured men are not prisoners of war, the diplomats pointed out, and cannot legally be held on that charge.

Technically, it is understood, they can be considered in the same class with Mexican soldiers entering United States territory, but it is considered probable the Mexican government will take this attitude.

C. A. Barr of Riverside drive brought to the Capital Journal office today a limb of a cherry tree several feet in length that was simply loaded with cherries. It gives you an idea of the great crop this year in the vicinity of Salem.

Mr. Hall, the new superintendent, is a man of great experience in Indian work. The many improvements planned will be carried out in addition to others which Mr. Hall will initiate.

American Rancher and Bride Murdered

Columbus, N. M., June 27.—William Parker and his bride of three months were murdered in their bedroom by Mexican bandits who raided the Parker ranch southwest of Hachita at 4 a. m. today. Colonel Waterman of the border patrol at Hachita confirmed the reports of the raid in an official statement declaring the defenseless American ranchman and his wife were murdered after the Mexicans riddled the house with bullets. The raiders escaped back to Mexico with 25 of Parker's horses.

No mention was made of a commanding officer. The message which was delivered to the state department: "There are twenty-one privates and two sergeants of Tenth cavalry and one white interpreter interned in the penitentiary. Two are slightly wounded, one through the shoulder and the other through the knee. Both recovering and receiving medical attention. They are sufficiently fed and well treated. They have ample room for exercise. Am assured there is no danger for their lives."

FLORAL SOCIETY TO DECORATE ARMORY

All Members Requested to Bring Flowers and Assist in Work Sunday

The responsibility of having the armory properly decorated for the Cherry fair and dance next Monday has been assumed by the Salem Floral society. At their meeting last night, all members were requested to bring flowers and shrubs and to assist in the decorations Sunday and Monday morning. The extent to which the armory is decorated will demonstrate to the people of Salem what can be done by a properly supported floral association and for this reason the society wishes the co-operation of all its members.

Instead of arousing antagonism, the letters sent out by the society have been received in the best of spirit, resulting in the improvement of several homes and vacant lots. These letters suggested improvements in the general condition of yards and parkings.

Besides decorating the armory, the floral society will be represented in the auto parade and in order that it may be appropriately represented, Mrs. Edward Tallman was appointed chairman of a committee. She will select her own assistants.

Mrs. John Minto volunteered to assist the decorating committee in charge of the armory and will place a special exhibit of English Iris, sweet peas and roses. Her exhibits will not compete for prizes.

"We want 1,000 members." This is the new slogan of the society and in order that a membership campaign may be started during the Cherry fair, badges in pink and gold will be printed and when worn by young ladies at the armory will indicate their willingness to take the names of new members along with the two bits annual dues.

The society will have a booth at the armory and it is from this booth the young ladies will rally forth in their efforts to bring the membership up to the coveted 1,000.

Twenty-Five American Soldiers Are In Prison at Chihuahua City

Washington, June 27.—Twenty-one privates, two sergeants, and one white interpreter, survivors of the Carrizal battle, are interned in the penitentiary at Chihuahua City, the British vice consul there telegraphed the British embassy this afternoon. They are in no danger of their lives, he said. Two of the men are wounded. Both are recovering.

No mention was made of a commanding officer. The message which was delivered to the state department: "There are twenty-one privates and two sergeants of Tenth cavalry and one white interpreter interned in the penitentiary. El Paso, Texas, June 27.—Two negro troops of the Tenth U. S. cavalry are in the Juarez jail this afternoon. They were presumably captured after the Carrizal fight. Mexican authorities in Juarez refuse to make known their names. The men probably will be sent to Chihuahua City and jailed with the 17 American prisoners already there.

STATE NEWS

Eugene Guard: J. O. Holt has arranged to operate the Cresswell Fruit company in order to fill the orders for canned fruits that he is unable supply from the output of the Eugene cannery. The local plant is already working to its full capacity canning cherries to fill a large order that was received yesterday from J. B. Oliger, of Salem, for an eastern firm, and all of the summer product has been contracted for with the exception of some of the loganberries. At the Cresswell cannery the total supply of blackberries, raspberries and other small fruits will be bought at the prevailing prices, says Mr. Holt. Also, he says, at the local cannery he will be able to handle the whole product of the community on the same terms. The Cresswell plant will be operated along the same plan as the Eugene concern, the fruit growers' association bearing the expense of the cannery operation, and all the overhead charges.

Lake County Examiner: Shearing is now in full swing in this section of the country, with three crerals at work. These are the Wilson crerals, in charge of Con Breen, Reynolds and Hankins, near the Gap, and Nick Barry, at the old Ambrose crerals. The proprietors of these crerals have installed machines, run by gasoline engines. The Wilson crerals are equipped with 14 machines, but an additional five will be added in the near future. Reynolds and Hankins have a like number, while Nick Barry has 12. Twenty machines will be able to shear about 3,000 sheep a day. Wool is now being hauled into town and weighed.

Ashland, Ore.: Ashland expects to entertain at least 20,000 people on July 4, 5 and 6, at the formal opening of a magnificent park, which has cost the city over $250,000, and the setting for Ashland's famous lilies and soda and sulphur springs, now highly developed and placed at the disposal of the public. The big feature is a reproduction of the Pendleton Roundup, a $10,000 attraction, under the name of the Rogue River Roundup. A tract of land adjacent to the city has been secured for race track and arena, and a vast amphitheatre is being prepared. A four-hour show will be given daily.

Astorian: An echo of early day mining in Oregon is a paperweight recently presented to Justice Webster by C. W. Buckner—a block of wood from the foot of an old stamp mill that was running at Copper Mountain in Josephine county half a century ago. The stampmill and mine are located about 25 miles from Grants Pass, the mill being used to prepare the ore for shipment to the smelter. Justice Webster says that some of the ore was packed overland to the coast and shipped to Wales for smelting. It yielded some gold, copper and other metals.

Two More at Juarez.
